PUBLIC (SERVICES) DEPARTMENT.

G.O.No.2719, 1st September 1947.

Public Services - Provincial and Subordinate Services - Recruitment of war service candidates - Allocation of substantive and temporary vacancies - Instructions issued.

Order - No.2719, Public (Services), dated 1st September 1947.

In Memorandum No.1174/47-6, Public (Services), dated June 1947, the Government agreed with the Board of Revenue that war service candidates selected for substntive and temporary vacancies (reserved) should be included in separate lists. The Madras Public ServiceCommission, which was requested to take action accordingly, has raised certain difficulties in giving effect to the proposal.

2. According to paragraph 4 of G.O.No.839, Public(Services) dated 5th April 1947, war service candidates should as soon as they complete their probation satisfactorily, be confirmed in available substantive vacancies (reserved) and those for whom such vacancies are not available should hold temporary vacancies in preference to civilians acting or temporary, recruited on or after 1st January 1943. It may not be possible to follow these orders unless somedistinction is made between persons recruited against substantive vacancies and those recruited against temporary vacancies. With a view to facilitate the working of the above orders and also to obviate the necessity for drawing up separate lists, the following instructions are issued:-

Reserved vacancies in subordinate services are allocated amoung war service candidates as follows:-

	Per cent.
(i) Those who appled before 28th February 1946.	20
(ii) Those who applied between 1st March and 30th June 1946.	30
(iii) Those who applied between 1st July 1946 and 31st March 1947 and before a date to be specified hereafter.	30
(iv) Those who applied or may apply after 31st March 1947 and before a date to be specified hereafter.	20

The Government direct that the available substantive and temporary vacancies should be distributed amoung the four batches roughly in the proportion 2: 3: 3: 2 and that persons who are placed at the top of the lists of approved candidates for each batch should be appointed against substantive vacancies and the rest against temporary vacancies. Similarly in regard to Provincial Services, persons occupying higher places in the approved lists should be appointed against substantive vacancies to the extent that such vacancies are available and the rest against temporary vanancies.
